A Google approach to email.

Gmail is built on the idea that email can be more intuitive, efficient, and useful. And maybe even fun. After all, Gmail has:

 Less spam
Keep unwanted messages out of your inbox with Google's innovative technology.

 Mobile access
Read Gmail on your mobile phone by pointing your phone's web browser to <http://gmail.com/app>. Learn more

 Lots of space
Over 7413.293870 megabytes (and counting) of free storage.

About Mailing Lists

RootsWeb's mailing lists can help you find information about your ancestors and connect you with people who have research interests similar to yours

Use the top search box at the left to search for information that has already been posted to the mailing lists. Enter names or keywords and click "Search" and we'll search our archives for information that matches. Click the "Advanced search" or "Search tips" links for more search options or suggestions on effective searching.

If you are looking for a specific mailing list to join, enter a surname, location, or keyword(s) into the lower box and click "Search." Click the "Browse mailing lists" link to browse for a mailing list by surname, location, or topic.

Do you have a suggestion for a list we don't already have? You can request a new list here.

2. [\[CON\] St Hilary names](#) [0.8]

I am curious about the names of my 5th great-grand parents who were married in 1730 at St.Hilary. They were Hannibal Trevaskis and Zenobia Penglase. Why at that time would one be named after a Carthaginian General and the other after a warrior Queen of Palmyra? Was the use of similar names popular at that time and could anyone suggest a reason? The names were not used in following Trevaskis generations. Regards Don Maher Sydney Australia

4. [\[CON\] Germoe & Breage](#) [0.643181]

Going through the Gemoe parish registers I have noticed that many of the baptisms are for children with the abode listed as Breage. I realize the proximity of the two parishes. Was this common for families living in Breage to worship in Germoe? Was it just a matter of which church was closest? Also is there a locational term that would cover the Breage, Germoe, Penzance, St. Buryan, St. Hilary, etc. area of Cornwall? Thank you, Lori Sue Johnson Researching RICHARDS, TREVASKIS, PHILLIPS, and WEBSTER.

50 Australian Websites For Family History

December 23rd, 2009

Christmas Greetings! There are numerous 'best of' lists but rarely do they include Australian websites. This list reflects my own interests but I would welcome suggestions and would love to make it a Top 100 list.

tweets

retweet

Some websites fitted more than one category, especially the State archives and libraries as some of them have very active access and digitisation programs. However I have only included them in one category so be sure to explore the whole site and not just the section I chose to feature.

Lists are in alphabetical order as it was too hard to prioritise! Have a safe and happy festive season with family and friends and check out this list if and when you need time out for you. Enjoy!

Archives & Libraries

City of Sydney Archives

Some really interesting material here if you have an interest in early Sydney especially the Old Sydney Burial Ground.

National Archives of Australia

Great site for World War One dossiers (digitised and free access) and immigration post 1900 plus other records that might surprise people. Their Fact Sheets help to suggest further ideas for research.

BRICK WALL SOLUTIONS - THE AASE GUNDERSON STORY

Posted 21 Dec 2009

Regular readers of this blog will have noted that yesterday (21 Dec 2009) there was a Brick Wall blog by Rosemary Kopitke, another Unlock The Past (UTP) team member. A decision was made to include Brick Wall stories from other speakers so you will be seeing a wider range of solutions in 2010. Don't forget to let us know any comments or your own stories and solutions.

I am looking for someone who can talk at our local genealogical meeting on DNA in plain English, if this is possible. Can anyone point me in a direction, (central Victoria area) a quick trip from Melbourne!

Comment by Shauna Hicks on January 13, 2010 at 6:27am

The Southern Regional Cemetery Trust has the following cemeteries online - Cambridge, Cornelian Bay, Derwent Valley, Eastern Shore, Huonville, Kingston, Moonah, Mornington and Southern Midlands which is good if you are interested in those areas. Similarly Launceston cemetery and crematorium is online I am not sure where Don is and Sorell does not appear to be online see Interment.net for Tasmania. I also find Tasmania Online helpful. Regards Shauna

Welcome to Looking 4 Kin Genealogy and Family History Network

(part of the original Looking 4 Kin Genealogy Links & Chat)

I believe there are great possibilities here for sharing information and communicating with family and friends.

This network and all aspects of Looking 4 Kin are free and will always remain that way. All we ask is that you participate if you join.

Editing Or Adding To Your Profile Page:

Click on the My Home Page tab at the top of this page. Here you can change the color and layout of your page, add your photo, put more information on the names you are researching. It is your page to alter however you want as long as it is kept genealogy related. When done here head on over to the groups and start joining and posting. Also remember to stop into Looking 4 Kin Genealogy Chat.

To Search For & Join Groups:

Click on the Groups tab at the top of this page. On the left you will see a search box- from here you can search for a group type or name.

Welcome!

This is a community wiki for users of the Old Bailey Proceedings Online.

We welcome contributions of relevance to the material contained in the Old Bailey Proceedings Online, especially biographical information, but also material that can add historical context to the site and help other researchers, teachers and students, and information about errors in our transcripts and missing material.

What is this wiki for?

There are a number of broad types of material that we would particularly welcome. Some could come under more than one, of course, and this list is certainly not meant to be exhaustive.

1. Biographies - biographical material about individuals and families who are documented in the Old Bailey Proceedings and Ordinary's Accounts
2. Corrections - let us know about transcription and markup errors in the Old Bailey Proceedings Online
3. Associated records - information from or about related sources beyond the Old Bailey Proceedings Online
4. Historical background - including all those puzzling references in trial reports to obscure objects and forgotten places!
5. Teaching resources - for school and university teaching
6. The Bibliography - you can help us to keep this up to date

We do, however, reserve the right to remove any material that is not relevant to the main site, inaccurate or fictional, offensive or abusive, plagiarised or copyright-infringing, commercial or political: see our terms and conditions for details.

Welcome to LostCousins

LostCousins is the ONLY family history genealogy website able to match you with cousins researching the same ancestors

AUTOMATICALLY, ACCURATELY & CONFIDENTIALLY

Simply enter the relatives on your family tree who were recorded on the US, Canadian, or British Census - then click the Search button!

Our automated matching is close to 100% accurate, so nobody else needs to see your information - and when you do find a 'lost cousin', you can be certain you're related!

Best of all...

Find living relatives and discover more

When you find a 'lost cousin' it's a great opportunity to share family photos and stories that have been passed down the generations - things you'll never find in public records offices and archives.

As well as sharing existing knowledge about your family tree you can co-operate on future research - after all, a problem shared is a problem halved!

No experience necessary

A genealogy site for everyone!

Just begun to research your family tree? Genealogy may seem complicated at first, but our Beginners Guide shows how to discover your family history through censuses and records of births, marriages, and deaths.

But our members aren't all beginners - over half have been researching their family history for 10 years or more.

Smith, Jones or Brown?

Looking for the surnames Smith or Jones?

Our unique matching system works just as well for common surnames as it does for rare surnames!

About FamilyLink.com

Welcome to the FamilyLink.com Application. We first introduced this app in October 2007 and it has become the most popular Facebook app for families, with more than 50 million users.

We are working hard to further develop this app, fix glitches and add new features. We are also trying to increase the speed of the app. We appreciate your patience as we make the app the best family-based app on Facebook.

With that said, we would like to note that this application is not intended to be a full featured family tree software package. While it has many features of that kind, it is certainly not comprehensive in that way. The idea is for you to be able to share basic family information with anybody you choose.

With this app you can:

- Find your relatives on Facebook
- Keep up with your family
- Build your family tree
- Share news and photos with your family

In the future we hope to allow you to share memories about ancestors with your family, compare your family tree with your friends on Facebook to see if you are related, and to search for your ancestors through the application.

Thanks for your patience as we work on the app. We appreciate your suggestions and comments.

Enjoy!

Put your genealogy online quickly and easily — with TNG 7!

CURRENT VERSION: 7.1.2 (14 October 2009)

PRICE: $29.99 USD (Buy it here)

by Darrin Lythgoe, 2001-2009

The Next Generation of Genealogy Sitebuilding® ("TNG") is a powerful way to manage and display your genealogy data on the Internet, all without generating a single page of HTML. Instead, your information is stored in MySQL database tables and dynamically displayed in attractive fashion with PHP (a scripting language).

Want to learn more? While here you can:

- See a list of features
- Get answers to frequently asked questions
- Read what current users have to say about TNG
- Visit other TNG sites
- See a demonstration
- Read reviews at Hotscripts.com
- Buy it now!

If your web server supports PHP and MySQL, you can set up and run TNG with very little effort. Don't settle for 'ancient' site creation methods that leave you with thousands of dull-looking HTML pages!

Public Genealogy Wave for Victoria, Australia Dec 24, 2009

For those with research interests in Victoria.

I currently live here (really a Queenslander in exile) but I did have families here in the 1850s - Bullen and Potter around Bendigo and Ballarat before moving to Queensland in the 1870s.

Below are some useful websites for researching in Victoria. Please suggest others

- Australian Institute of Genealogical Studies
- Ballarat & District Genealogical Society
- Bellarine Peninsula and Geelong & District
- Bendigo Regional Archives Centre
