Priorities

- Before anything else, exhaust family sources
- Not just direct line, also collateral lines & even distant lines
- Stimulate memories – show photographs & documents
- Offer to share with others
- Take a digital camera/scanner with you

Family Sources

- Can save time & money
- BDM Certificates
- Family bibles
- Correspondence
- Newspaper cuttings
- Medals, sporting trophies
- Photographs

Don't Reinvent the Wheel

- Has someone already researched the family?
- Check genealogical research directories
- Guild of One Name Studies (GOONS)
- Rootsweb mailing list archives
- Facebook, Genes Reunited, Ancestry, FindMyPast, Lost Cousins, My Heritage, World Connect
- Genealogy blogs

Welcome to LostCousins

Are you serious about researching your family tree? If so, you've come to the right place, because LostCousins is the ONLY family history website able to match you with others researching the same ancestors

AUTOMATICALLY, ACCURATELY & CONFIDENTIALLY

Simply enter the relatives on your family tree who were recorded in selected US, Canadian, British, or Irish Censuses - then click the Search button.

Your information stays hidden

100% accurate automated matching means that nobody else needs to see your information - yet when you do find a 'lost cousin', you can be certain you're related!

Naturally, achieving such results requires a little effort on your part - but once you've entered your data the rest is automatic, so overall you'll find that the unique LostCousins approach SAVES you a lot of time and effort compared to other, less accurate, sites.

Find living relatives and discover more

When you find a 'lost cousin' it's a great opportunity to share family photos and stories that have been passed down the generations - things you'll never find in public records offices and archives. You might even decide to co-operate on future research.

The best genealogy newsletter - and it's FREE!

As a LostCousins member you will be entitled to receive our newsletter, which is full of useful tips and articles to help you knock down 'brick walls' and take your research to a new level. Here's what members say about the newsletter:

National Family History Month

Family history and genealogy is one of the most popular hobbies around the world. Family history is the second biggest subject on the web with sites receiving billions of hits per year. There are over 250,000 Australians who are members of family history related organisations so the month has broad appeal across Australia.

National Family History Month is an initiative of AFFHO (Australasian Federation of Family History Organisations). This popular initiative has received broad support from some of Australia's leading government and non government organisations. Past sponsors include:

Digital images of probate records from the Archives of New Zealand. The records were created by local courts throughout New Zealand regions. An index is available on the Archives of New Zealand website (<http://www.archway.archives.govt.nz/>) which will give the probate file number associated with a name. Some records at the beginning of the file sets are often out of numerical order. This collection is being published as images become available.

FreeUKGen is an initiative to help make more high quality primary (or near-primary) records of relevance to UK genealogy conveniently available online, preferably for free, in a coherent, easy to access and search, facility or set of facilities

FreeUKGen aims to provide the tools and support for its member projects (see below) and to do so in a way that makes good use of present knowledge about relevant computer science techniques, e.g. concerning interfaces, databases, data interchange protocols, and system design generally, and which is technically forward-looking.

FreeUKGen encourages large-scale volunteer effort, and makes good use of it, e.g. by reducing duplication of transcription and indexing efforts, and by facilitating widespread access to the information resources that are produced by such efforts.

FreeUKGen sets the standard for other organisations that are engaged in making genealogy resources available.

FreeUKGEN Projects

FreeBMD was the first of the FreeUKGen projects to launch. The searchable database first became available in January 1999, some five months after the ONS gave permission for the Project. Mocked at first as being "too big", it has proved all its doubters wrong, as it moves towards its target of completing the complete index at a faster rate than even the early fans thought possible.

We don't know if FreeBMD is the biggest voluntary transcription project ever, but we suspect it might be!

FreeCEN was the second of the FreeUKGen projects to come on-line. Transcription started in July 1999, and the online database launched in July 2003.

Since the launch of the search engine, a number of counties have been completed, and transcription is continuing at a rapid rate.

FreeREG was the third of the FreeUKGen projects to come on-line. Founded by Rod Neep (of Archive CD Books) in early 1999. The FreeREG search engine went live in September 2006.

FreeREG stands for Free REGisters.

Our objective is to provide free Internet searches of baptism, marriage, and burial records, that have been transcribed from parish and non-conformist registers of the U.K. FreeREG is a companion project to FreeBMD (a database of the GRO birth, marriage and death indexes from 1837) and FreeCEN (a database of census information).

We are in need of volunteers willing to transcribe registers, to make their existing transcriptions available on FreeREG or undertake one of the many supporting tasks. (Follow the link to How to Volunteer for information on how to participate.)

The FreeREG database contains 3,847,516 Marriages, 11,237,907 Baptisms and 7,695,770 Burials. The last update started on Tue 11 Dec 2012 and was completed on Tue 11 Dec 2012.

On Sat 5 Jan 2013 FreeREG users did 28,762 searches. (Details)

Add a Postem

Please note that the only effect of submitting a postem is to attach the information you supply to the entry, in particular:

- There is no point in leaving a request for information unless you also leave a contact email address
- Any request will only be seen by people who search for and find the entry concerned, not by the FreeBMD project
- It is very unlikely that the person who transcribed the record will see a postem. To contact the transcriber (if they are available) please use the mailing list

If a person wished to settle his or her affairs before death, they drew up a will, which set down their instructions as to the disposal of their possessions and named the executor whom they wished to administer the estate. The executor had to be confirmed by the court and the document drawn up by the court for this purpose is known as a testament. There are two types of testaments: the testament testamentar and testament dative.

The testament testamentar applied when the deceased died testate (leaving a will). It comprised four parts: the introductory clause, an inventory of the deceased's possessions (see below), the confirmation clause and a copy of the will, stating the wishes of the deceased regarding the disposal of the estate and naming the executor (usually a family member) he or she had chosen to undertake this task. If a copy of the will was not included, reference was made to it having been recorded elsewhere, probably in the court's Registers of Deeds.

The testament dative was drawn up by the court if a person died intestate (without leaving a will), in order to appoint and confirm the executor on their behalf. It comprised three parts: the introductory clause, an inventory of the deceased's possessions, and the confirmation clause. The testament dative might name a family member as executor, but if the deceased died in debt, a creditor might be appointed as executor instead. In such cases, the testament would include a list of

Geelong and District

So where is "Geelong and District"?

It is in Victoria, Australia.

The boundaries are not rigid but basically cover an arc from the Otways up to a little south of Ballarat, across to Werribee and all points to the south east of that area.

Professional Researchers

- May be necessary
 - Too far to travel to repository & no copy service
 - Need expert assistance eg foreign language or complex records
- Institutions have researcher lists
- AAGRA – www.aagra.asn.au
- Association of Professional Genealogists
www.apgen.org

Conclusion

- It is possible to do family history research cheaply and quickly using modern resources and technology
- Revisit your research – lots of projects in progress
- Share your tips and tricks with others – everyone benefits!
