Priorities

- ▶ Before anything else, exhaust family sources
- ▶ Not just direct line, also collateral lines & even distant lines
- ▶ Stimulate memories – show photographs & documents
- ▶ Offer to share with others
- ▶ Take a smart phone or digital camera/ scanner with you

The Surname Society

The Surname Society was founded as a not-for-profit entity by a worldwide group of experienced genealogists. The vision of the Society is to connect like-minded people by providing up-to-date facilities which enable members to share knowledge, data and good practice with others regardless of where in the world they are. The Society is entirely online and focusses on single surname studies to meet the needs of researchers in the world of family history and genealogy as it evolves in the 21st century. What is a surname study?

A surname study is much more than a family pedigree which only researches the ancestors and descendants of one individual. Studying a surname in depth, many individuals, groups and associations choose to collect all references to a surname on either a global or limited basis. Studies could be restricted to a particular country, or a state, county or region within a country. [\[Read more...\]](#)

Welcome to LostCousins

Are you serious about researching your family tree, but concerned about posting information online? If so, you've come to the right place, because LostCousins is the ONLY family history website able to match you with others researching the same ancestors

AUTOMATICALLY, ACCURATELY & CONFIDENTIALLY

Simply enter the relatives on your family tree who were recorded in selected US, Canadian, British, or Irish Censuses - then click the Search button.

Your information stays hidden

100% accurate automated matching means that nobody else needs to see your information - yet when you do find a 'lost cousin', you can be certain you're related!

Achieving such results requires a little more effort upfront, but it's well worth it - the accuracy of the LostCousins system SAVES you a lot of time and hassle compared to other sites.

Find living relatives and discover more

When you find a 'lost cousin' it's a great opportunity to share family photos and stories that have been passed down the generations - things you'll never find in public record offices and archives. You might even decide to co-operate on future research.

The best genealogy newsletter - and it's FREE!

As a LostCousins member you will be entitled to receive our newsletter, which is full of useful tips and articles to help you knock down 'brick walls' and take your research to a new level. Here's what members say about the newsletter:

"Your letters are so informative especially for those at a brick wall and not sure where to look next."

"Thanks again for the fabulous Lost Cousins newsletters - they are crammed with invaluable information."

"Many thanks for your informative and interesting newsletters. I really look forward to them and when I spot them in the inbox they are the first thing I scroll to."

Search the Census

We don't have census information at the LostCousins site - we don't need to, because all the relevant censuses are readily available online at other sites, and most of them can be searched free of charge (see below).

Here are links to the sites we recommend; although you will also find some of the censuses at other sites you might not find it so easy to obtain the information you need:

England & Wales 1881 FREE - findmypast.co.uk

England & Wales 1841 - findmypast.co.uk

England & Wales 1911 - findmypast.co.uk

Scotland 1881 FREE - Scotlandspeople (Choose the LDS transcription)

US 1880 FREE - FamilySearch

Canada 1881 FREE - FamilySearch

Newfoundland 1921 FREE - FamilySearch

Ireland 1911 FREE - The National Archives of Ireland

We also use the US 1940 census which is available FREE at several sites - there is no one site which we recommend.

Please ensure that the information you enter precisely matches the census, even when the census is wrong - otherwise we won't be able to match your relative with the same person entered by another member. The information you enter should be taken from the transcript, except in the case of the 1841 and 1911 censuses, where you should use the information on the handwritten census page.

Enter not only your direct ancestors, but also their brothers, sisters, and cousins - in fact, all the relatives that you can find on the census. Any one of them could be the link to a 'lost cousin', and the more relatives you enter, the more cousins you are likely to find.

Searching the census is easy - but only when you know how. The article "Key Tips for Census Success" on our Help & Advice page is a mine of useful information, full of handy techniques to help you find the most elusive of ancestors!

Key Factors – Time Saving

- Recordkeeping - creating, accessing & preserving family archives
 - Paper & digital – keep up to date with all your filing!
 - Use a genealogy software program
- Don't travel to do research that you can do locally
 - Check libraries, genealogy societies, archives
 - Use interlibrary loan
 - E-resources

Genealogy Programs

- ▶ Produce standard forms quickly
- ▶ Compile family tree charts
- ▶ Include scanned photos & documents
- ▶ Easy exchange of info between families & other researchers
- ▶ Provide a 'to do' section & notes area
- ▶ Don't just use online sites

Free UK Genealogy provides free, online access to family history records. We work with a team of dedicated volunteers to create high-quality transcriptions of public records from governmental sources, parish churches, and other trusted institutions. We believe that Open Data and Open Source are key to making and keeping public records accessible to all. We work with others with the same concerns.

We are commencing development of the birth place search feature in the light of your feedback in the Birth Place survey. Our volunteers and developers have already undertaken extensive work to improve the quality of information about the place of birth that we hold, so that the 'type what you see' place of birth can be searched more meaningfully.

"Leicestershire, inland, bounded N. by Notts, E. by Lincolnshire and Rutland, SE. by Northamptonshire, SW by Warwickshire, and NW. by Derbyshire; greatest length, about 44 miles; greatest breadth, about 40 miles; area, 511,907 acres, population, 321,258. Low undulating hills cover the surface of the county, the highest elevation being Fardon Hill (902 ft.), in the Charnwood range. Charnwood Forest, in the NW., is now nearly destitute of trees. The principal rivers are tributaries of the Trent, which flows in the NW. of the county; these are the Soar, Wreak, Anker, Devon, and Mease. The Avon and Welland flow in the S. Two canals, the Union and the Grand Union, are connected with the Grand Junction Canal. Much of the soil is loamy, and the richest districts are kept in pasture, upon which are reared the varieties of sheep and cattle for which the county is famous. Dairy farms are numerous, especially in the vicinity of Melton Mowbray, where the well-known Stilton cheese is largely produced. Leicestershire consists mostly of the new red sandstone formation. The coal measures have a total area of about 15 square miles, the most productive mines being in the neighbourhood of Ashby de la Zouch. Hosiery is the leading manufacture, the wool employed being that of Leicestershire sheep."
